Where I Stand on Community Issues

Development

Recognize the inevitability of development and the need for managed growth.

Pursue funding of residential projects through Community Development Authorities, thereby enabling homeowners in new developments to understand and plan for repayment at special tax rates related to bonds.

Consult with developers and businesses to ensure quality projects throughout the Bermuda District with emphasis on revitalization of Jefferson Davis Corridor.

Taxes

Prevent misrepresentation and confusion of designating a cut in the real estate rate as a tax reduction when the assessment increases far outpace the rate reduction.

Initiate a rollback rate, or the rate that would exist if the rate adjusted downward while assessments rose.

Allow the rollback rate to be adjusted upward only for inflation, population growth percentage, or specifically identified expenditures (such as new library, more police, or operating expense of new school). In such cases, expenditures must be explained to the public.

Schools

Work diligently with the School Board for high academic standards and well-maintained discipline in our schools.

Work with School Board to accelerate solutions to the Thomas Dale overcrowding situation.
